NEW LAMPS.—The Paris Gas Company are putting in some new street lamps, which will prove of considerable benefit in the lighting of the streets. The new management of the gas plant in this city is endeavoring to give our people the best of service.

JUDGE SMITH'S COURT.—On Saturday, Geo. Thomas, colored, was fined $50 and costs, for pointing a gun. Will Leer and George Greasable, also colored, were touched up in King Dodo style to the tune of $11 each for a breach of the peace.

WINDSOR TO BE SOLD.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Hotel Windsor, on last Saturday, it was agreed to sell the hotel and divide the money among the stockholders. Messrs. N. H. Bayless and Jesse Turney were appointed a committee to dispose of the property.

FOR "KING DODO"—The sale of seats for the performance of "King Dodo" at the Grand on Friday night will open at the box office on Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock sharp. Those wishing seats had better be there at that hour or have a representative. There will undoubtedly be a large demand.

WELL UNDER WAY.—With the exception of a short stretch at the corner of Main and Sixth streets, the Main-street sewer is practically completed, and the work of excavating on Pleasant street and intersecting streets is well under way. The contractors have been favored with exceptionally good weather for some time, and have hurried the work along as fast as possible. Main-street merchants appreciate the raising of "the blockade."

AN AMBITIOUS STUDENT.—Paris amateurs are turning out some very interesting art works. Mr. Charles Shea, who has been a pupil at the Cincinnati School of Art, has just finished a remarkably life-like bust in clay of a well-known Parisian, working almost entirely from memory and unknown to the model. The bust is pronounced an excellent likeness. Mr. Shea is an earnest and ambitious student, and is making rapid strides in his work.

A UNIQUE REASON.—Col. John Givens Craddock gives a unique reason for desiring to retain the capitol at Frankfort. Asked by Hon. S. L. VanMeter if the people were given a vote on removal, he said: "No, I am in favor of Frankfort. I owe my life to that city. My mother's first husband caught the malaria there while serving in the legislature and died. She then married my father, and that's the reason I'm living. No, I can't go back on the cause of my existence."

ENDORSES THE MOVE.—Mrs. J. M. Arnold, of Newport, Ky., President of the State organization of the Daughters of the Confederacy, has sanctioned the action of the Lexington, Louisville and other chapters in their denunciation of the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" shows as calculated to work injury with the rising generations by giving them a wrong idea of the slavery system. She says it is only proper that this protest come from Kentucky, as the scene of the play is there laid. She thinks that such a libelous misrepresentation should not be permitted in the play-house.

12,559 VOTES

Very Truly Yours,

January 25, 1902

Edward G. Cooke, General Manager of the "King Dodo" Company, when he learned of the enterprise of THE NEWS in making his opera company's visit to this city a contest, decided to increase interest in the event by inviting the successful contestants who win second and third prize to witness the performance of the opera here and left with Manager Porter, of the opera house, the little slip invitation to be delivered after the committee has counted the coupons and decides who has been successful, so the second and third candidates will be favored with two choice seats each.

SMALL POX.—James Bryan, son of Jeff Bryan, of Plum, this county, having exposed himself to the contagion of small pox, Sheriff Mitchell was ordered by the County Judge to take the necessary steps to prevent the spread of the disease by vaccinating and giving Bryan an antiseptic bath and thoroughly fumigating the house in which he lives, which was done on Sunday.

LAUGHABLE experiments at the High School, Thursday night, with Liquid Air, beefsteak, vegetables, etc. Lots of fun and a heap of information besides.

Don't fail to see Marcoffsky, when in need of anything in the gent's' furnishing line. Prices lower than ever.

REAPING THE HARVEST.—The performance at the local Opera House last night, by J. H. LaPearl's "Reaping the Harvest" Company, was one of the best that has ever played our city. The scenery was fine, while the company was all that was claimed for it, each and every member of the cast doing their work in a way that made them favorites. The play is full of pathos and teaches a lesson that cannot soon be forgotten.

SAD DEATH.—Mrs. Marion Shaw, a member of the "Reaping the Harvest" Co., which played here last night, received a letter from her mother, at San Francisco, announcing the death of her father. Notwithstanding the sadness of the news, the lady went on and played her part in the performance, which was a most trying task. Mr. Shaw is a native of Kentucky, his grandmother, Mrs. M. S. Shaw, living near Carlisle.

Elks' Minstrel Show.

The minstrel show given under the auspices of the Elks' lodge of this city, on Friday evening last, was a success, both financially and artistically. There was a very large audience, which was composed of the very best class of society and the performance was in every respect a great success. The feature of the performance was the singing by the celebrated Elks' octette, composed of Judge H. Clay Howard, Dr. M. H. Dailey, Dr. Frank Fithian, Messrs. Ford Brent, Charles Hill, Edgar Hill, Frank Walker and Owen L. Davis. The first part was beautifully staged. Over the chair of the interlocutor was a mammoth set of Elks' horns illuminated with tiny electric lights and just behind in letters of light, "B. P. O. E." The songs and jokes by the eight men, Messrs. C. B. Bailey, Chas. Webber, Albert Hinton, Pierce Paton, Geo. Browner, Ben Downey, Phil Foley and Chas. Clark, were all first-class and much enjoyed. The vocal solos by Chas. Hill, Frank Walker, Edgar Hill and Owen Davis were excellent and were repeatedly encored.

Miss Esther Margolen added much to the instrumental part of the bill with her violin.

In the olio, Henry Saxton gave his guitar solos, which were very fine, and Guy Bowen, of Winchester, appeared in his own specialties, with dances, which was easily a feature of the performance. He is certainly an artist.

The entertainment was under the direction of Messrs. Fick and Bailey, of the National Promoting Co., of Cincinnati.

Taken altogether, the performance was all that was claimed for it, and the Elks' lodge will add several hundred dollars to its building fund. The gross receipts amounted to about $700.
